TEACHING SYLLABUS FOR ENGLISH

(JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL)

RATIONALE

The status of English Language and the roles it plays in national life are well known. As the official language, it is the language of government and administration. It is the language of commerce, the learned professions and the media. As an international language, it is the most widely used on the internet. Beyond the lowest levels of education, that is, from Primary 4, English is the medium of instruction. This means that success in education at all levels depends, to a very large extent, on the individual's proficiency in the language. It is for these and other reasons that English Language is a major subject of study in Ghanaian schools.

GENERAL AIMS

The syllabus has been designed to assist the pupil to

1. develop the basic language skills of listening, speaking, reading and writing
2. attain high proficiency in English to help him/her in the study of other subjects and the study of English at higher levels
3. cultivate the habit of and interest in reading
4. communicate effectively in English

SCOPE OF CONTENT

The subject aims at integrating the receptive and productive skills in the teaching and learning of English in the five sections indicated below:

Section 1:	-	Listening and Speaking Oral/Speech Work Conversation
Section 2:	-	Grammar Language Structure
Section 3:	-	Reading Silent Reading Reading Aloud Reading Comprehension Summary Writing
Section 4:	-	Composition Narrative and Descriptive Writing Letter Writing Guided Summary Work

Section 5: - Literature/Library Prose, Drama and Poetry

PRE-REQUISITE SKILLS

The pre-requisite skills in listening, speaking, reading and writing English are assumed to have been adequately acquired at the Primary Level.

SUGGESTIONS FOR TEACHING THE SYLLABUS

This syllabus has been developed very carefully and with a lot of consultations with the aim of helping to improve the standard of English in Basic Schools. Read this section very well in order to be able to use the syllabus very effectively.

General Objectives

General Objectives have been listed at the beginning of each Section. The general objectives are a summary of the specific objectives of the various units contained in that Section. Read the general objectives very carefully before you start teaching the section. After teaching all the units of the section, go back and read the general objectives again to be sure you have covered the objectives adequately in the course of your teaching.

Syllabus Structure: Sections and Units

The syllabus has been planned on the basis of Sections and Units. Each year's work is divided into sections. A section consists of a fairly homogeneous body of knowledge within the subject. Within each section are units. A unit consists of a more related and more homogeneous body of knowledge and skills.

The syllabus is structured in five columns: Units, Specific Objectives, Content, Teaching and Learning Activities and Evaluation. A description of the content of each column is as follows:

Column 1 - Units: The units in Column 1 are the divisions of the major topics of the section. You are expected to follow the unit topics according to the linear order in which they have been presented. However, if you find at some points that teaching and learning in your class will be more effective if you branched to another unit before coming back to the unit in the sequence, you are encouraged to do so.

Column 2 - Specific Objectives: Column 2 shows the Specific Objectives for each unit. The specific objectives begin with numbers such as 1.3.5 or 2.2.1. These numbers are referred to as "Syllabus Reference Numbers." The first digit in the syllabus reference number refers to the section; the second digit refers to the unit, while the third digit refers to the rank order of the specific objective. For instance, 1.3.5 means: Section 1, Unit 3 (of Section 1) and Specific Objective 5. In other words, 1.3.5 refers to Specific Objective 5 of Unit 3 of Section 1. Similarly, the syllabus reference number 2.2.1 simply means Specific Objective number 1 of Unit 2 of Section 2. Using syllabus reference numbers provides an easy way for communication among teachers and other educators. It further provides an easy way for selecting objectives for test construction. Let's say for instance, that Unit 2 of Section 2 has five specific objectives: 2.2.5. A teacher may want to base his/her test items/questions on objectives 2.2.3 and not use the other three objectives. In this way, a teacher would sample the objectives within units and within sections to be able to develop a test that accurately reflects the importance of the various skills taught in class.

You will note also that specific objectives have been stated in terms of the pupil i.e., what the pupil will be able to do after instruction and learning in the unit. Each specific objective hence starts with the following, "The pupil will be able to.." This in effect, means that you have to address the learning problems of each individual pupil. It means individualising your instruction as much as possible such that the majority of pupils will be able to master the objectives of each unit of the syllabus.

Column 3 - Content: The "content" in the third column of the syllabus presents a selected body of information that you will need to use in teaching the particular unit. In some cases, the content presented is quite exhaustive. In some other cases, you could add more information to the content presented. In a few cases the content space has been left blank for you to develop. The teacher should at any rate, have more content knowledge to be able to teach the syllabus effectively.

Column 4 - Teaching and Learning Activities (T/LA): T/LA that will ensure maximum pupil participation in the lessons is presented in Column 4. English is a subject in which rules of grammar and usage have to be learnt precisely and applied in a variety of situations. Lots of practice on the part of pupils is, therefore, required for mastery. The instructional model to bear in mind is "understanding followed by practice". You are encouraged to re-order the suggested teaching and learning activities and also add to them where necessary in order to achieve optimum pupil learning. In the case of English and the other languages, the emphasis is on the acquisition of effective communication skills. There may be a number of units where you will need to re-order specific objectives to achieve the required effects.

Column 5 - Evaluation: Suggestions and exercises for evaluating the lessons of each unit are indicated in Column 5. Evaluation exercises can be in the form of oral questions, quizzes, class assignments, essays, structured questions, project work etc. Try to ask questions and set tasks and assignments that will challenge your pupils to develop excellent skills in the English Language as a result of having undergone instruction in this subject. The suggested evaluation tasks are not exhaustive. You are encouraged to develop other creative evaluation tasks to ensure that pupils have mastered the instruction and behaviours implied in the specific objectives of each unit.

Lastly, bear in mind that the syllabus cannot be taken as a substitute for lesson plans. It is therefore, necessary that you develop a scheme of work and lesson plans for teaching the units of this syllabus.

DEFINITION OF PROFILE DIMENSIONS

The concept of profile dimensions was made central to the syllabuses developed from 1998 onwards. A 'dimension' is a psychological unit for describing a particular learning behaviour. More than one dimension constitutes a profile of dimensions. A specific objective may be stated with an action verb as follows: The pupil will be able to describe.... etc. Being able to "describe" something after the instruction has been completed means that the pupil has acquired "knowledge". Being able to explain, summarize, give examples, etc. means that the pupil has understood the lesson taught.

Similarly, being able to develop, plan, solve problems, construct, etc. means that the pupil can "apply" the knowledge acquired in some new context. Each of the specific objectives in this syllabus contains an "action verb" that describes the behaviour the pupil will be able to demonstrate after the instruction. "Knowledge", "Application", etc. are dimensions that should be the prime focus of teaching and learning in schools. It has been realized unfortunately that schools still teach the low ability thinking skills of knowledge and understanding and ignore the higher ability thinking skills. Instruction in most cases has tended to stress knowledge acquisition to the detriment of the higher ability behaviours such as application, analysis, etc. The persistence of this situation in the school system means that pupils will only do well on recall items and questions and perform poorly on questions that require higher ability thinking skills such as application of mathematical principles and problem solving. For there to be any change in the quality of people who go through the school system, pupils should be encouraged to apply their knowledge, develop analytical thinking skills, develop plans, generate new and creative ideas and solutions, and use their knowledge in a variety of ways to solve mathematical problems while still in school. Each action verb indicates the underlying profile dimension of each particular specific objective. Read each objective carefully to know the profile dimension toward which you have to teach.

Profile dimensions describe the underlying behaviours for teaching, learning and assessment. In English, two profile dimensions and four skills have been specified for teaching, learning and testing.

The profile dimensions are:

Knowledge and Understanding	40%
Use of Knowledge	60%

The four skills are as follows:

Listening	10%
Reading	30%
Speaking	30%
Writing	30%

The profile dimensions and the skills may be combined as follows:

Listening	-	Knowledge and Understanding
Reading	-	Knowledge and Understanding
Speaking	-	Use of Knowledge
Writing	-	Use of Knowledge

Learning the English Language implies the acquisition of two major abilities or behaviours. These are “Knowledge and Understanding”, and the “Use of Knowledge”. “Knowledge and Understanding” refers to the ability to identify and recall for example, the principles of grammar acquired through instruction, and further acquired through Listening and Reading. “Use of Knowledge” implies the ability to use the language in writing and in speaking. Besides the two dimensions are the four skills; Listening, Reading, Speaking and Writing. “Listening” and “Reading” are referred to as “Receptive Skills.” They are the skills through which a pupil receives some communication from reading a book or listening to other persons. “Speaking” and “Writing” are referred to as “Productive Skills” since these are the skills which require the pupil to produce knowledge or information through speaking the language and through writing letters, compositions, etc.

The English Language has a store of body language and certain stresses and intonations which give particular meaning to spoken words. Body language and stresses must also be taught to enable young people to be able to interpret the meaning of words and expressions more accurately.

Each of the dimensions and the skills has been given a percentage weight that should be reflected in teaching, learning and testing. The weights indicated on the right of the dimensions and skills show the relative emphasis that the teacher should give in the teaching, learning and testing processes. Combining the dimensions and the four skills in the teaching and learning process will ensure that English Language is taught competently and studied diligently in school.

The following diagram shows the relationship between the profile dimensions and the four language skills, with their suggested weights in the cells and in the last column and row.

Relationship Between Profile Dimensions and Language Skills

Profile Dimensions	Receptive Skills		Productive Skills		Total
	Listening	Reading	Writing	Speaking
Knowledge and

Understanding	10	30	-	-	40
Use of Knowledge	-	-	30	30	60
Total	10	30	30	30	100

“Knowledge and Understanding” has a weight of 40% and “Use of Knowledge” has a weight of 60% as shown in the last column of the table. The last row shows the weight or relative emphasis that should be given each of the four skills in the teaching and learning process. The productive skills are weighted 60% as against 40% for the receptive skills as already indicated.

The explanation and key words involved in each of the profile dimensions are as follows:

Knowledge and Understanding (KU)

Knowledge The ability to:
remember, recall, identify, define, describe, list, name, match, state principles/facts/concepts. Knowledge is simply the ability to remember or recall material already learned and constitutes the lowest level of learning.

Understanding The ability to:
explain, summarise, translate, rewrite, paraphrase, give examples, generalise, estimate or predict consequences based upon a trend. Understanding is generally the ability to grasp the meaning of some material that may be verbal, pictorial, or symbolic.

Use of Knowledge (UK)

This dimension is also referred to as “Application”. Ability to use knowledge or apply knowledge, as implied in this syllabus, has a number of behaviour levels. These levels include application, analysis, synthesis, and evaluation. These may be considered and taught separately, paying attention to reflect each of them equally in your teaching. The dimension “Use of Knowledge” is a summary dimension for all four learning levels. Details of each of the four levels are as follows:

Application The ability to:
apply rules, methods, principles, theories, etc. to concrete situations that are new and unfamiliar. It also involves the ability to produce, solve, operate, plan, demonstrate, discover etc.

Analysis The ability to:
break down material into its component parts; to differentiate, compare, distinguish, outline, separate, identify significant points, recognise un-stated assumptions and logical fallacies, recognise inferences from facts, etc.

Synthesis The ability to:
put parts together to form a new whole. It involves the ability to combine, compile, compose, devise, plan, revise, design, organise, create, generate, etc.

Evaluation The ability to:
appraise, compare features of different things and make comments or judgement, contrast, criticise, justify, support, discuss, conclude, make recommendations etc. Evaluation refers to the ability to judge the worth or value of some material based on some criteria.

You will note from the above that evaluation is the highest form of thinking and is, therefore, the most difficult behaviour. This accounts for the poor performance of students and people generally on tasks that call for evaluative thinking. As we have said, start to develop this important skill early in your pupils by giving them lots of chances to do evaluative thinking while learning the subject.

Explanation of the meaning of the four skills is as follows:

Listening Comprehension: This is the ability to:
listen to, understand and follow directions, instructions etc. given in a language.

Reading: The ability to:
read and understand what is conveyed in a piece of writing. The reader must be able to read coherently, and must be able to answer questions arising from the passage read. He or she must also be able to summarize passages read to show that he/she has understood the passages. Making summaries is a very important aspect of "Reading".

Speaking: The ability to:
speak a language clearly, and in a way that will be understood by listeners. This is an oral communication skill that pupils should be encouraged to practise to perfection.

Writing: The ability to:
express one's self clearly and comprehensively in writing. Writing may be in the form of simple sentences, short essays, compositions, summaries, letters, etc.

FORM OF ASSESSMENT

It must be emphasized again that it is important that both instruction and assessment be based on the profile dimensions of the subject. In developing assessment procedures, select specific objectives in such a way that you will be able to assess a representative sample of the syllabus objectives. Each specific objective in the syllabus is considered a criterion to be achieved by the pupil. When you develop a test that consists of items or questions that are based on a representative sample of the specific objectives taught, the test is referred to as a "Criterion-Referenced Test". In many cases, a teacher cannot test all the objectives taught in a term, in a year etc. The assessment procedure you use i.e. class tests, home work, projects etc. must be developed in such a way that it will consist of a sample of the important objectives taught over a period.

End-of-Term Examination

The end-of-term examination is a summative assessment system and should consist of a sample of the knowledge and skills pupils have acquired in the term. The end-of-term test for Term 3 should be composed of items/questions based on the specific objectives studied over the three terms, using a different weighting system such as to reflect the importance of the work done in each term in appropriate proportions. For example, a teacher may build an end-of- Term 3 test in such a way that it would consist of the 20% of the objectives studied in Term 1, 20% of the objectives studied in Term 2, and 60% of the objectives studied in Term 3.

The diagram on the next page shows the recommended end-of-term examination structure in English for JHS 1-3. The structure consists of one examination paper with two sections, A and B and the School-Based Assessment. The end-of-term Test Paper will be a blend of objective-type and structured questions (i.e. short answers). The paper will test “knowledge and understanding” and “application of knowledge”. The total marks for the test should be scaled to 40. The 60 marks left should be derived from SBA which focuses on “attitudes and process skills”. The suggested number of items for the end-of-term test is as follows:

- JHS1: 30 items for 45 minutes
- JHS2: 40 items for 60 minutes
- JHS3: 40 items for 60 minutes

The teacher should consider the ability level of the class and determine the number of items to use for the end-of-term assessment. The above is only a guide.

It is important that both instruction and assessment be based on the profile dimensions and the skills of the subject. In developing assessment procedures, select specific objectives in such a way that you will be able to assess a representative sample of the syllabus objectives. Each specific objective in the syllabus is considered a criterion to be achieved by the pupil. When you develop a test that consists of items or questions that are based on a representative sample of the specific objectives taught, the test is referred to as a “Criterion-Referenced Test”. In many cases, a teacher cannot test all the objectives taught in a term, in a year, etc. The assessment procedure you use i.e. class tests, homework, projects, etc., must be developed in such a way that it will consist of a sample of the important objectives taught over a period. The following structure should be considered for developing the end-of-term test.

Distribution of Examination Marks and Examination paper Weights

Dimensions	Section A (Objective Test)	Section B (Structured Questions)	SBA	Total Marks	%Weight of dimensions
	Grammar, Writing and Composition	Reading, Writing and Composition	All Five Sections
Knowledge and Understanding	10	10	40	60	40
Use of knowledge	10	10	60	80	60
Total Marks	20	20	100	140
% Contribution of Test Papers	10	40	50		100

The assessment model above consists of one paper with two sections. Section A, the objective test paper will consist of 10 items. Section B, is the structured questions section made up of 20 questions, each carrying 2 marks and totalling 20 marks. The total marks of 20 marks under Section B should be multiplied by 2 to obtain 40 as the percentage contribution of Section B. SBA will cover all five sections of the syllabus and will be marked out of 100 and scaled down to 50% as indicated in the last row. Each of the marks in the last but one row will be scaled to the percentage contribution marks indicated in the last row. While the actual marks will be 140, the total scaled marks will be 100. The ranking of pupils on examination performance will hence be based on 100 marks.

GUIDELINES FOR SCHOOL BASED ASSESSMENT

A new School Based Assessment system (SBA), formally referred to as Continuous Assessment, will be introduced into the school system from September 2008. SBA is a very effective system for teaching and learning if carried out properly. The new SBA system is designed to provide schools with an internal assessment system that will help schools to achieve the following purposes:

- Standardize the practice of internal school-based assessment in all schools in the country
- Provide reduced assessment tasks for each of the primary school subjects
- Provide teachers with guidelines for constructing assessment items/questions and other assessment tasks
- Introduce standards of achievement in each subject and in each class of the school system
- Provide guidance in marking and grading of test items/questions and other assessment tasks
- Introduce a system of moderation that will ensure accuracy and reliability of teachers' marks
- Provide teachers with advice on how to conduct remedial instruction on difficult areas of the syllabus to improve pupil performance

The new SBA system will consist of 12 assessments a year instead of the 33 assessments in the previous continuous assessment system. This will mean a reduction by 64% of the work load compared to the previous continuous assessment system. The 12 assessments are labelled as Task 1, Task 2, Task 3 and Task 4. Task 1-4 will be administered in Term 1; Tasks 5-8 will be administered in Term 2, and Tasks 9-12 administered in Term 3. Task 1 will be administered as an individual test coming at the end of the first month of the term. The equivalent of Task 1 will be Task 5 and Task 9 to the administered in Term 2 and Term 3 respectively. Task 2 will be administered as a Group Exercise and will consist of two or three instructional objectives that the teacher considers difficult to teach and learn. The selected objectives could also be those objectives considered very important and which therefore need pupils to put in more practice. Task 2 will be administered at the end of the second month in the term. Task 3 will also be administered as individual test under the supervision of the class teacher at the end of the 11th or 12th week of the term.

Task 4 (and also Task 8 and Task 12) will be a project to be undertaken throughout the term and submitted at the end of the term. Schools will be supplied with 9 project topics divided into three topics for each term. A pupil is expected to select one project topic for each term. Projects for the second term will be undertaken by teams of pupils as Group Projects. Projects are intended to encourage pupils to apply knowledge and skills acquired in the term to write an analytic or investigative paper, write a poem 9 (as may be required in English and Ghanaian Languages), use science and mathematics to solve a problem or produce a physical three-dimensional product as may be required in Creative Arts and in Natural Science.

Apart from the SBA, teachers are expected to use class exercises and home work as processes for continually evaluating pupils' class performance, and as a means for encouraging improvements in learning performance.

Marking SBA Tasks

At the JHS level, just as at the primary level, pupils are expected to undertake assignments that may involve investigations and extended writing etc in English. The following guidelines are provided for marking assignments of such nature.

1.	Introduction	20%
2.	Main Text -Descriptions, use of charts etc.	60%
3.	Conclusion	20%

Children have to be taught how to use charts and other forms of diagrammes in their writing pieces. They have to be taught to start with an introduction and conclude their writing appropriately.

The marks derived from projects, the end of month tests and home work specifically designed for the SBA should together constitute the School Based Assessment component marked out of 60 per cent. The emphasis is to improve pupils' learning by encouraging them to produce essays, poems, and other pieces of writing and drama. The SBA will hence consist of:

- Ø End-of-month tests
- Ø Home work assignments (specially designed for SBA)
- Ø Project

Other regulations for the conduct of SBA will reach schools from GES.

Combining SBA marks and End-of-Term Examination Marks

The new SBA system is important for raising pupils' school performance. For this reason, the 60 marks for the SBA will be scaled to 50. The total marks for the end of term test will also be scaled to 50 before adding the SBA marks and end-of-term examination marks to determine pupils' end of term results. The SBA and the end-of-term test marks will hence be combined in equal proportions of 50:50. The equal proportions will affect only assessment in the school system. It will not affect the SBA mark proportion of 30% used by WAEC for determining examination results at the BECE.

GRADING PROCEDURE

In marking your class examination scripts, it is very important that you develop a marking scheme. A marking scheme, as you may be aware, consists of the points for the best answer you expect for each essay question or structured question, and the mark(s) allocated for each point raised by the pupil as well as the total marks for the question. For instance, if a question carries 10 marks and you expect 4 points in the best answer, you could allocate 2 marks (or part of it, depending upon the quality of the point raised by the pupil) to each point raised, totalling 8 marks, and then give the remaining 2 marks or part of it, for organisation of answer. For objective test papers, you may develop an answer key to speed up the marking.

To improve assessment and grading and also introduce uniformity in schools, it is recommended that schools adopt the following grade boundaries for assigning grades:

Grade A:	80 - 100%	-	Excellent
Grade B:	70 - 79%	-	Very Good
Grade C:	60 - 69%	-	Good
Grade D:	45 - 59%	-	Credit (Satisfactory)
Grade E:	35 - 44%	-	Pass
Grade F:	≤ 34%	-	Fail

The grading system presented above shows the letter grade system and equivalent grade boundaries. In assigning grades to pupils' test results, or any form of evaluation, you may apply the above grade boundaries and the descriptors. The descriptors (Excellent, Very Good etc) indicate the meaning of each grade. For instance, the grade boundary for "Excellent" consists of scores between 80 - 89. Writing "80%" for instance, without writing the meaning of the grade, or the descriptor for the grade i.e. "Excellent", does not provide the pupil with enough information to evaluate his/her performance in the assessment. You therefore have to write the meaning of the grade alongside the score you write. Apart from the score and the grade descriptor, it will be important also to write a short diagnosis of the points the pupil should consider in order to do better in future tests etc. Comments such as the following may also be added to the grades:

- Keep it up
- Has improved
- Could do better
- Hardworking
- Not serious in class
- More room for improvement, etc.

Note that the grade boundaries above are also referred to as grade cut-off scores. When you adopt a fixed cut-off score grading system as in this example, you are using the criterion-referenced grading system. By this system a pupil must make a specified score to earn the appropriate grade. This system of grading challenges pupils to study harder to earn better grades. It is hence very useful for achievement testing and grading.

NOTES TO THE TEACHER

Integration of Skills

A key concept of the syllabus is the integrated approach to the teaching of skills. It must be remembered that the receptive (listening and reading) and productive (speaking and writing) skills are interrelated and hence complementary. Thus, for example, a reading lesson must provide ample opportunity for the practice of related listening, speaking and writing skills. Similarly, it must be borne in mind that grammar is taught to be applied in speech and in writing. Lessons must therefore feature relevant issues of grammar.

Another issue that is worthy of note is the integration of laudable human values. This is not to shift the focus of language lessons to preaching these values. Small doses of these values are fused into literature and composition as well as reading and oral work.

1. Oral Work (Listening and Speaking)

At the JHS level, the section on Oral Work referred to as “Listening and Speaking” in this syllabus, focuses on the correct vowel and consonant sounds, on diphthongs and general intonation in speaking English. The purpose of this section is to help pupils speak the English language with the correct stress and intonation. The section has been developed as activities that should be undertaken in turns. The teacher must give the units of the section their due weight, balance and influence in the teaching process. Above all, the teacher must endeavour to get his/her pupils to speak English as much as possible for them to be able to acquire effective skills in listening and speaking the English Language.

2. Reading Material

The topics selected for reading at the primary level are aimed at increasing the pupil's knowledge about critical issues that affect the life of the pupil in Ghana. At the JHS level, the topics have been selected essentially to broaden the pupil's perspective on the present world. Topics selected include important geographical aspects of the world, modern inventions and modern communication systems, differences between communism, socialism and democracy, reasons why some nations are rich and some are poor; the role of some African continental bodies and the United Nations Organization etc. The topics at JHS1 generally centre on the major resources of the country before moving to the outside world, beginning from the later part of JHS1. Many of the topics and issues in the reading list have not been dealt with in other subjects. By focusing on these topics in Reading lessons, pupils will be able to acquire a lot of useful information as they read in class. The teacher is also encouraged to use his/her initiative in improvising and planning new and useful material. It is a requirement that each pupil should read five books on different topics each term, that is fifteen books in a year and write a short report on each book read.

3. Supplementary Material

The teacher is further encouraged to constantly look for other supplementary material that will enhance the teaching and learning especially of the sections on “Listening and Speaking” and “Reading”.

LIST OF TOPICS FOR READING

(JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL)

The following list of topics has been selected to be used for developing materials for reading at JHS. The teacher is encouraged to look for materials that may be relevant to these topics, or select passages from other sources that will be of interest to pupils at each class level. Materials for reading must also be varied enough to reflect the basic types of prose: narrative, descriptive, expository and argumentative as well as bits of drama and verse

LIBRARY

1. General Objectives: Students will:
 - i. develop the love for reading;
 - ii. develop interest in, and acquire the habit of reading for pleasure and for academic purposes;
 - iii. read for information on various topics.
 - iv. read a minimum of 9 books by the end of the year.

2. Specific Objectives: Students will:
 - i. acquire the skills for handling books;
 - ii. talk about what they see in books;
 - iii. read at least 15 story books;
 - iv. express their views on stories read and the characters in them;
 - v. talk and write about books read.

3. General Guidelines on Library Work:
 - (a) Introduce students to books/library.
 - (b) Teachers should introduce pupils to books with special emphasis on handling and care.
 - (c) Introduce students to the class/school library and how it is organised.
 - (d) Students should also be educated on library rules, such as borrowing procedures.

I. Starting The Class/School Library

A library could be a room full of books or a simple collection of books neatly arranged in cartons or boxes and available for pupils to read.

Teachers can start a class/school library with scrap-books made by teachers and pupils. Such books should be made with brightly coloured pictures and drawings. Every school should, therefore, be able to start a simple class/school library. Textbooks that are no longer in use and other discarded books could be used to begin a class/school library.

II. Equipping A Class/School Library

Books for the library could be obtained from other sources like:

The Ghana Education Service (GES).

The Ghana National Association of Teachers (GNAT).

The District Assemblies.

The School Management Committees.

Past Students.

Churches and Other Organisations.

Philanthropists.

Ghana Library Board.

Ghana Book Trust.

and Non-Governmental Organisations (NGOs) such as:

World Vision.

Plan International.

Save the Children Fund.

The Rotary Club.

Valco Fund.

European Economic Community.

Friedrich Ebert Foundation.

Friedrich Nauman Foundation.

Zonta International.

ADRA.

UNICEF/UNESCO, etc.

III Maintaining The Class/School Library

Teachers must ensure that books in the library are properly kept and maintained. Books that get torn or damaged must be mended promptly. Teachers must also ensure that books do not get lost and pupils must be tasked to prevent thefts.

IV Generating Interest in Reading

Minimum Reading Targets:

Reading is crucial to progress, not only in English, but in all other subjects. One way of encouraging the JHS student to read is to make suitable reading materials available, and set minimum reading targets. As stated in the specific objectives, the target is 15 books for the year. It is expected that given the necessary encouragement many student will exceed the target.

Teachers should use various other approaches to generate interest in library reading including the following:

- i. making sure children see them reading library and other books;
- ii. giving gists of books read and recommending them to pupils,
- iii. retelling stories read to class.
- iv. giving time for pupils to tell stories read to the class; dramatize part of books read.
- v. dramatizing parts of books (stories) read by pupils; writing short stories.
- vi. giving prizes to pupils who read a lot of books and to those who make remarkable progress in library reading.
- vii. selecting comprehension passages from class library books for terminal examinations and continuous assessment tests and tasks.

V Checking on Pupils Reading

Teachers should introduce measures to check on pupils'. One way is to introduce a library reading sheet as shown on the next page.

Title:..... Author:..... Nationality:.....

LIBRARY

1. General Objectives: Students will:
 - i. develop the love for reading;
 - ii. develop interest in, and acquire the habit of reading for pleasure and for academic purposes;
 - iii. read for information on various topics.
 - iv. read a minimum of 9 books by the end of the year.

2. Specific Objectives: Students will:
 - i. acquire the skills for handling books;
 - ii. read at least 15 story books;
 - iii. express their views on stories read and the characters in them;
 - iv. talk and write about books read.

3. General Guidelines on Library Work:
 - (a) Introduce students to books/library.
 - (b) Teachers should introduce pupils to books with special emphasis on handling and care.
 - I Introduce students to the class/school library and how it is organised.
 - II. Students should also be educated on library rules, such as borrowing procedures.

I. Starting The Class/School Library

A library could be a room full of books or a simple collection of books neatly arranged in cartons or boxes and available for pupils to read.

Teachers can start a class/school library with scrap-books made by teachers and pupils. Such books should be made with brightly coloured pictures and drawings. Every school should, therefore, be able to start a simple class/school library. Textbooks that are no longer in use and other discarded books could be used to begin a class/school library.

II. Equipping A Class/School Library

Books for the library could be obtained from other sources like:

The Ghana Education Service (GES).

The Ghana National Association of Teachers (GNAT).

The District Assemblies.

The School Management Committees.

Past Students.

Churches and Other Organisations.

Philanthropists.

Ghana Library Board.

Ghana Book Trust.

And Non-Governmental Organisations (NGOs) such as:

World Vision.

Plan International.

Save the Children Fund.

The Rotary Club.

Valco Fund.
European Economic Community.

Friedrich Ebert Foundation.
Friedrich Nauman Foundation.
Zonta International.
ADRA.
UNICEF/UNESCO, etc.

III Maintaining The Class/School Library

Teachers must ensure that books in the library are properly kept and maintained. Books that get torn or damaged must be mended promptly. Teachers must also ensure that books do not get lost and pupils must be tasked to prevent thefts.

IV Generating Interest in Reading

Reading Targets:

Reading is crucial to progress, not only in English, but in all other subjects. One way of encouraging the primary school child to read is to make suitable reading materials available, and set minimum reading targets. As stated in the specific objectives, the target is 15 books for the year. It is expected that given the necessary encouragement, many student will exceed the target.

Teachers should use various other approaches to generate interest in library reading including the following:

- i. making sure children see them reading library and other books;
- ii. giving gists of books read and recommending them to pupils,
- iii. retelling stories read to class.
- iv. giving time for pupils to tell stories read to the class; dramatize part of books read.
- v. dramatizing parts of books (stories) read by pupils; writing short stories.
- vi. giving prizes to pupils who read a lot of books and to those who make remarkable progress in library reading.
- vii. selecting comprehension passages from class library books for terminal examinations and continuous assessment tests/tasks.

V Checking on Pupils Reading

Teachers should introduce measures to check on pupils'. One way is to introduce a library reading sheet as shown on the next page.

UNIT 1 (CONT'D) RELATIVE CLAUSES: Defining and Non-Defining.		A defining relative clause is not separated from the main sentence by commas. It forms an important part of the sentence. e.g. The boys who came late were punished. Mr. Odum, who teaches in the school, has been promoted Non-defining relative clauses can be left out of sentences without affecting the meaning of the sentences e.g. The policeman, who arrested the thief, was given a prize. LIBRARY

1. General Objectives: Students will:
 - i. develop the love for reading;
 - ii. develop interest in, and acquire the habit of reading for pleasure and for academic purposes;
 - v. read for information on various topics.
 - vi. read a minimum of 9 books by the end of the year.

2. Specific Objectives: Students will:
 - i. acquire the skills for handling books;
 - ii. talk about what they see in books;
 - iii. read at least 15 story books;
 - iv. express their views on stories read and the characters in them;
 - v. talk and write about books read.

3. General Guidelines on Library Work:
 - (a) Introduce students to books/library.
 - (b) Teachers should introduce pupils to books with special emphasis on handling and care.
 - (c) Introduce students to the class/school library and how it is organised.
 - (d) Students should also be educated on library rules, such as borrowing procedures.

I. Starting The Class/School Library

A library could be a room full of books or a simple collection of books neatly arranged in cartons or boxes and available for pupils to read.

Teachers can start a class/school library with scrap-books made by teachers and pupils. Such books should be made with brightly coloured pictures and drawings. Every school should, therefore, be able to start a simple class/school library. Textbooks that are no longer in use and other discarded books could be used to begin a class/school library.

II. Equipping A Class/School Library

Books for the library could be obtained from other sources like:

The Ghana Education Service (GES).

The Ghana National Association of Teachers (GNAT).

The District Assemblies.

The School Management Committees.

Past Students.

Churches and Other Organisations.

Philanthropists.

Ghana Library Board.

Ghana Book Trust.

and Non-Governmental Organisations (NGOs) such as:

World Vision.

Plan International.

Save the Children Fund.

The Rotary Club.

Valco Fund.
European Economic Community.

Friedrich Ebert Foundation.
Friedrich Nauman Foundation.
Zonta International.
ADRA.
UNICEF/UNESCO, etc.

III Maintaining The Class/School Library

Teachers must ensure that books in the library are properly kept and maintained. Books that get torn or damaged must be mended promptly. Teachers must also ensure that books do not get lost and pupils must be tasked to prevent thefts.

IV Generating Interest in Reading

Minimum Reading Targets:

Reading is crucial to progress, not only in English, but in all other subjects. One way of encouraging the JHS child to read is to make suitable reading materials available, and set minimum reading targets. As stated in the specific objectives, the target is 15 books for the year. It is expected that given the necessary encouragement, many students will exceed the target.

Teachers should use various other approaches to generate interest in library reading including the following:

- i. making sure children see them reading library and other books;
- ii. giving gists of books read and recommending them to pupils,
- iii. retelling stories read to class.
- iv. giving time for pupils to tell stories read to the class; dramatize part of books read.
- v. dramatizing parts of books (stories) read by pupils; writing short stories.
- vi. giving prizes to pupils who read a lot of books and to those who make remarkable progress in library reading.
- vii. selecting comprehension passages from class library books for terminal examinations and continuous assessment tests and tasks.

V Checking on Pupils Reading

Teachers should introduce measures to check on pupils'. One way is to introduce a library reading sheet as shown on the next page.
